Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

Hanging on the wall in the office of Attorney W. S. Paxson, on S. Fayette Street, is a huge picture of the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

The frame of the picture is about six feet long and 38 inches in depth, and the picture of the capitol appears to be a huge photograph, apparently taken 35 to 45 years ago.

The big picture of the capitol building was formerly the property of the late Humphrey Jones, prominent attorney, member of the Constitutional Convention and author of the Torrens land system for registering real estate titles in Ohio.

I first saw the picture on the walls of his office many years ago when he had his office on the second floor of the old Peoples and Drovers Bank building.

The picture shows a number of horse-drawn taxis about the front of the building, which clearly indicates the age of the interesting old picture.

You recall a little yarn I carried in this column just before the recent cool weather and frosts, in which I told you about the monarch butterflies migrating southward, and said it was an almost infallible sign of much cooler weather!

Well, just about every day since then the butterflies have been continuing their migratory flight, and millions of them have crossed Fayette County.

Tuesday I noticed many of them passing southward, and none were loitering about, but were making every minute count, and to me this is further indication of more cooler weather.

Fifty years ago Wednesday Elmore Lynch and Miss Mollie Sheets, who reside at 310 South North Street, were married in the parlors of the Gardner House, one of the city's leading hotels which stood at the corner of Main and East Streets on the site of the present offices of the Midland Grocery Company.

Elmore was employed at the hotel at that time, and had just returned with Company M and the 14th Ohio Regiment, from escorting Governor William McKinley to the World's Fair (Columbian Exposition) at Chicago. Elmore was a member of Company M at that time, and the Chicago trip was a big event for all of the Fayette County men enrolled in the company.

Rev. Wagner, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the marriage ceremony, and the only witness was Jennie Highland.

B. W. Sawdy was proprietor of the Gardner House at the time of the wedding, and the hotel contained 22 rooms. Elmore was general handy man about the hotel, and recalls that he worked from 4 A. M. until 8 P. M.

The Gardner House stood back from the street, was a brick structure, and later was supplanted by the Imperial Hotel, an attractive brick structure which stood flush with the sidewalk, and was destroyed by the big fire in late December, 1911.

Elmore and his wife celebrated their golden anniversary very quietly, Wednesday, receiving congratulations from quite a number of friends.

Well, Elmore and Mollie, here's wishing you many happy returns of the great event.

MUNITIONS PRODUCTION IN U. S. UP SINCE APRIL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Munitions output spurted ahead in August, scoring its biggest gain since April, the War Production Board reported today, and now "appears to be getting its second wind."

Chairman Donald M. Nelson's monthly report said overall arms over July, while the total of war production went up 4 per cent, planes delivered jumped from 7,373 to 7,612. Heavy bombers gained 11 per cent and fighters 5 per cent.

Red Spearheads Are Nearing

Germans from Russia

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's badly mauled German divisions, cracking under the terrific punishment meted out to them by the powerful Russian offensive, reeled back to their eastern defense wall on the Dnieper River today as the Red Army scored new advances along the whole length of a 750-mile front.

Dangerously weakened by the incessant hammer blows of the Russians, the once invincible German legions apparently were being broken into isolated units and nowhere, according to the latest Moscow war bulletin, were they able to halt the Red Army tide.

The last formidable barrier before the Dnieper on the central front was battered down yesterday when a savage Soviet drive slashed across the Desna River line between Bryansk and Kiev. With the capture of Chernigov, most important German base on the lower reaches of this river, the way was opened for Red Army forces to strike directly at Kiev and Grodno. The latter is the gateway to White Russia.

Another thousand small towns and villages were liberated by Russian advances yesterday, while upwards of 7,000 Nazi troops were slain and many more captured, the Russian communiqué said.

In addition, the Soviet air force, credited with 63 Nazi planes destroyed over the front yesterday, blasted concentrations of railway trains at Gomel, Vitebsk and Dzhankoi on the central front last night, setting many of them afire.

In their drive to push the invaders from Russian soil, the Red Army spearheads were within 18 miles of Smolensk, which was slowly being flanked on the north and south. Kiev, the great German bastion on the central sector of the long front, was menaced by Soviet thrusts from three directions. In the south, Red artillery was shelling Melitopol, on the Crimean railway.

Huge fires and demolitions scarred Naples today as the Germans hastily threw a defensive ring around the city to retard Allied armies steadily pressing outward from the Salerno bridgehead.

The great metropolis of nearly a million persons in southern Italy was described officially as overhung with smoke.

A military spokesman said the enemy was establishing a strong defense line on the approaches to Naples from the south and east, but the extent of their demolitions in and near the city appeared evidence that the Germans hoped to hold back Allied attack toward the city from the Salerno area.

The Fifth Army meanwhile fought its way steadily east and northeast from Salerno with American troops capturing the towns of Campagna and Montecorvina-Rovella while the British chased fleeing Germans from the town of Cipriano.

On Corsica French soldiers and native patrols pursued a German garrison estimated at 12,000 men toward the eastern shores while American Liberator bombers blasted at the principal avenue of German evacuation from the island—the Corsican harbor of Bastia and the Italian port of Leghorn.

The military spokesman said he had "nothing to add" to Win-

Red Premier Makes Plea for

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Premier Stalin, acknowledging the "great support" which United States munitions and supplies are giving the Russian armies, called today for the successful floating of America's $15,000,000,000 third war loan.

His personal message to Americans was read by Maj. Gen. A. I. Belyaev, chairman of the Russian Purchasing Commission, at the army's "back the attack" bond show here.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, responding to the message, said "We of the United States are happy that our munitions and supplies have helped you to repulse the Germans. Everybody knows that bonds, in large part, paid for those munitions and supplies. The success of the third war loan will guarantee that our help will continue and even grow."

Japs, Fearing Allied Attack, Plan To Evacuate Tokyo; Tojo Warns People Decisive Phase of War Is Now Near

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Japanese government has decided to prepare "for the moving of government departments, industrial establishments and the civilian population from Tokyo as well as other important cities in the interest of improving their defense," the Tokyo radio said today.

The broadcast listed a number of drastic measures, including total mobilization of the civilian population and the abolishment of age limits to make all persons liable for national service, which it said were announced today by Premier Hideki Tojo and the government information office "in view of the decisive phase upon which the war will enter during the coming months."

In addition to the evacuation of the Japanese capital and other important cities to strengthen "the defense of the country," the government announced these measures:

Increase of anti-aircraft defense forces, especially the "air protection in industrial regions."

Special measures for the protection of government buildings and factories in Tokyo and other big cities of the country.

Strengthening of government control over all industry.

Centralization of traffic on land and water.

In one of the gloomiest broadcasts to come from the Japanese capital, the announcement said the aims of the measures were:

"The Japanese nation in all its classes and professions must fully understand the seriousness of the present internal and external situation and must be inspired by an unbending will to victory."

Hess Story Revealed By Eden

By E. C. DANIEL

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The full story of Rudolph Hess' flight to Britain disclosed today that more than two years ago, when Britain still was near its lowest depths in this war, the second in command of the Nazis declared Adolf Hitler wanted to call off the fight without making any "oppressive demands" on Britain.

The story of the No. 3 Nazi's fantastic flight "on a mission of humanity" to Scotland was told in an official government statement made available to Commons today by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

It disclosed a specific list of six peace terms, one of which stipulated Hitler's refusal to negotiate with Prime Minister Churchill, who was accused of planning the war since 1936.

What Germany wanted from Britain, Hess said, was a free hand in Europe and especially with Russia.

Upon his arrival in Scotland in May, 1941, Hess told the Duke of Hamilton that "the Fuehrer does not want to defeat England and wants

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)

Disclosure that Gen. George C. Marshall has been nominated for supreme command of British and American troops around the world made it fairly obvious today that the hour for storming Hitler's European fortress is approaching with express train speed.

And, judging from the global nature of Anglo-American strategy, Japan's day cannot be far behind.

Announcement of the appointment of the U. S. Army chief of staff to the most extraordinary military assignment in history—climaxing a flareup of discussion over high command shifts—is expected, barring any last minute hitches, to be made soon by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Up to London Now

That he has been chosen for the post, subject only to final approval by the London government, was established by Kirke Simpson of the Associated Press coincidental with new evidence that a massive invasion of western Europe is being mounted in England.

Marshall's responsibilities as field commander, as decided upon by the president and prime minister at Quebec, will be worldwide, but his first tough task will be the destruction of Nazi Germany.

Churchill declined to comment in the House of Commons today on the report. "No, sir," was the prime minister's reply when Major Charles Taylor asked him if he had any statement on the matter.

One competent London source said "Marshall would be one of the best leaders in the world for such a post." Unofficial comment generally was favorable.

Coordination Is Aim

Marshall's projected appointment, particularly with respect to the European theater, is designed to assure close coordination.

SANCTITY OF HOME STANDS ABOVE OPA

Judge Protests Woman from

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(AP)—"The sanctity of the home," says U. S. District Judge George A. Welsh, "is far more important than any violation of an OPA regulation."

He made the comment after excusing a trial jury while the court sought to determine whether three OPA agents violated the constitutional rights of Mrs. Margaret Guariglia when they went to her home to question her about "a large quantity" of missing ration stamps.

The 39-year-old former chief clerk of a South Philadelphia ration board, being tried on a charge of illegal possession of ration stamps, charged earlier that the agents entered her house without a warrant and "tricked and browbeat" her into signing a statement.

"The sacredness of the home is the paramount issue here," Judge Welsh said. "This principle of American liberty, that our boys are now fighting for, is far more important than any violation of an OPA regulation."

7 NEW MEMBERS ARE INDUCTED AT LIONS CLUB

Coaches Kissell, Cramer Principal Rettig Speak On Football Team

The Lions today have seven new members who were inducted at the meeting held at the Country Club Tuesday night. Nine guests were also present at the meeting which was attended by 95 percent of the members. The club aimed for 100 percent attendance at the Tuesday meeting, Paul Van Voorhis, secretary of the club, announced today.

Coaches Jerry Kissell and Clyde Cramer, two of the guests each made informal talks about the football teams they are coaching. Kissell is the coach for the WHS Blue Lions and Cramer coaches boys of the junior high school and on down through the grades each afternoon at Wilson Field. His team is scheduled to play Clarksburg Thursday afternoon, September 30, at Gardner Park.

John Sagar presided over the meeting which featured the induction of the seven new members. Induction ceremonies were conducted by District Governor Norman McLean and members of the club. The men inducted were Richard R. Willis, Dana Kelly, Charles Orr, William Humphries, William McCoy, Don Brandenburg and Howard Thompson, making a total of 41 members in the club.

Coach Kissell told the Lions the coaches in the schools wanted more contact with the businessmen of the community than they had an opportunity for ordinarily and that they appreciated their opportunities to get better acquainted with them made possible by service clubs. He praised the Lions as boosters of school athletics and said that much of the success of the football teams and other school athletics was due to backing them by service clubs.

He stated that the team this year was green and bound to make mistakes because they were young. "But they know where they are going, and although it will take time to get them working as a unit, in three or four weeks we expect to have an entirely different picture," he concluded.

Cramer, in speaking of the youngsters whom he is coaching at Wilson Park, said that their enthusiasm was boundless. He told of one boy who had been loafing during practice and as a penalty, Cramer told him to run around the field until he was told to stop. Fifteen minutes later the boy was still running, although Cramer had forgotten about the penalty laps while he was instructing some of the other boys. The next day, the same boy came up to Cramer and asked him what he had done wrong. "I told him I didn't quite remember what it was and he said, 'Well, I don't ever want to make that mistake again,'" Cramer said.

Cramer described the uniforms worn by the boys as all sizes and colors. "Some of them are so big that the boys can turn around in them," he explained.

"In Washington High School, scholarship comes first and athletics second," Walter Rettig, principal, told the group as he explained the rules for eligibility on the football squad. He said that each teacher checked the player's report before the game so that the coaches would know what boys would be able to play in the game. He explained that to qualify for the Ohio Athletic Association boys must be 20 years old or under, must not fail in more than two courses must have a physician's O. K. in the hands of the school officials and that a list of all players who expect to participate in games must be in the office of the association at least three days before the game. Training rules must be strictly observed as well.

In the senior class at WHS this year there are 33 boys and 68 girls, which accounts in a large measure, Rettig said, for the difficulty in building up a football team this year.

Maynard Craig, one of the seven guests at the meeting, thanked the Lions who helped load the tin cans on a box car last Sunday afternoon.

Robert Terhune announced that he had made tentative arrangements for Coach "Stu" Holcomb, football coach at Miami University, to speak at the annual football banquet scheduled for November 29 at the Country Club. Since Paul Shultz, star halfback on the Blue Lions squad last year, is one of the most promising players on the Miami team this year, Holcomb's comments should be interesting, Terhune said.

Dr. C. L. Ford, chairman of the glasses fund committee, reported that $541 was now in the fund. This money is used to purchase glasses for needy school children, it was explained.

Guests at the meeting were Rev. Byron R. Carver, pastor of the North Street Church of The official statement said nothing about Hess' present whereabouts or his state of health, but it concluded:

"Hess has been dealt with as a prisoner of war since his arrival in this country and will so continue to be treated until the end of the war."

If the peace terms offered by Germany were rejected, Hess told officials, Hitler expected to destroy Britain utterly and keep the country in a state of permanent subjection.

Eden related:

Before he reached Scotland in 1941, Hess told the Duke of Hamilton, he tried to arrange a meet-

CAN COLLECTION BREAKS RECORD IN THIS CITY

Between 30,000 and 40,000 Pounds of Prepared Cans Loaded Here

Collection of prepared tin cans, made Tuesday in an effort to fill out the carload being shipped from this city this week, was the greatest of the series made here, Maynard Craig, salvage director, said Wednesday and announced that the work was continued into Wednesday due to inability of the city street crew to collect all cans Tuesday.

The carload being shipped from this city contains between 30,000 and 40,000 pounds of cans and the tin reclaimed from the shipment will cost ten times as much as the cans themselves. The tin, under the new electrolytic process which requires only about one tenth of the amount of tin as the old process.

A surprisingly large amount of the tin cans came from the rural areas and were brought into the city and placed in the container along the alley at the southeast corner of the Court-house lawn.

Craig said Wednesday that collections will continue and urged all citizens to save the cans and prepare them for the next collection.

Tin from the cans is helping meet a serious crisis in the tin shortage, due to the fact that Japan seized the areas where most of the tin was produced.

ing in Lisbon and three times previously attempted to fly to Dungavel, Scotland, near the Duke's home. Hess said he met the Duke at the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin.

The last time he attempted a flight was in December, 1940, but he was turned back by the weather and other factors.

He did not want to come at the time of British successes in Libya, he told the Duke after he was incarcerated at Maryhill barracks, lest it appear a sign of weakness on the part of Germany. He waited until Germany was again gaining successes—that is, in the Balkans.

Hess insisted he came to Britain without Hitler's knowledge. He told Hamilton, who interviewed him on May 11, 1941, at Maryhill barracks, that he had come to Britain on a "mission of humanity."

Hamilton, who was a wing commander in the RAF and did not recall having met Hess before, flew to London and reported the conversation.

Hamilton told the authorities he believed the prisoner was Hess. This fact was confirmed by I. A. Kirkpatrick of the Foreign Office, who had known Hess and who talked to him May 13, 14 and 15.

Hess' aim was to convince responsible British persons that England could not win and its wisest course was to make an immediate peace.

National Commander Roane Waring, in delivering his annual report yesterday, repeated what he said before the American Federation of Labor's national convention in Toronto, October 2, 1942, that "any group of men who by strike action or slowdowns stopped war material from going to the front, those men were saboteurs and traitors and should be treated as such."

Green declared that "it is quite understandable for people to become incensed over some individual incident or situation, but it is wholly reprehensible to denounce on that account the whole labor movement, including workers and labor organizations that have contributed tremendously to the success of our war effort."

NAPLES AFLAME AS ALLIES CLOSE IN—NAZI DEFENSE OR EVACUATION SCENTED

ston Churchill's statement yesterday that American troops had landed on Sardinia, but the belief prevailed here that whatever units were sent to that island intended only to cooperate with an Italian division which already at Premier Pietro Badoglio's command took control and compelled the Germans to flee.

Another menace to the Germans on the Italian mainland, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army, drove northward and inland and occupied the high highway and rail center of Potenza.

Occupation of Potenza, which is a junction point of five main roads, gave the Allies control of the entire inland highway and rail systems south of a line extending eastward from Salerno.

A military spokesman, declaring "the first phase of the Salerno battle now is definitely over," added "we have inflicted upon the enemy heavy losses in personnel killed and captured and in equipment."

Many prisoners taken in attacks which already have wiped out the last vestiges of German lines to the east of the original beachhead were found to be non-German even though from enemy combat units. Ordinarily in the past, even in Tunisia, Poles, Czechs and other non-German Europeans who had been impressed into Hitler's armies were relegated to non-combat roles and the military spokesman drew the only possible inference: "It would appear to indicate a serious German manpower shortage."

The capture of Potenza brought to light one of the Italian campaign's boldest exploits by a small British patrol which stowed away on an Italian train and rode it northward to the very outskirts of that rail and road junction while it still was in enemy hands.

The patrol hid in the hills directly overlooking the town and stayed there three or four days, sending back what the military spokesman called "very valuable information of every German activity in and around Potenza, all of which was instrumental in our capture of the town."

Capture of Campagna carried the America forces 20 miles inland from Salerno to a point about six miles northeast of Eboli, capture of which was announced yesterday.

San Cipriano is about eight miles northeast of Salerno and Montecorvino is about 12 miles east of Salerno.

The town of Potenza, which fell to the Eighth Army, is a vital road junction approximately 50 miles due east of Salerno and

JAMES R. ROBINSON CALLED BY DEATH

Was Formerly Engaged in Insurance Business

James R. Robinson, 59, formerly one of this city's well-known insurance men, died Wednesday forenoon in a Columbus hospital, following an illness of two years or more.

Mr. Robinson was engaged in the insurance business here for sometime, then went to Chillicothe in 1917 where he managed a Woolworth Store for several years before taking up the insurance business once more and continuing it until ill health interfered. He and his family returned to this city in 1937.

Mr. Robinson leaves a large number of friends in this city and community, and in Chillicothe.

He is survived by his widow and five sons and daughters: James, chemical engineer with the DuPont plant at Wyandott, Mich. Cadet Harold, Army Air Corps, LaFayette, La.; Clarabel, Betty and Jack at the family home, 563 S. Fayette Street.

Five sisters and a brother also survive: Miss Belle Robinson, Mrs. H. H. Clark, Mrs. W. H. Rowe, Citronelle, Ala.; Mrs. Fred Fuller, Watertown, N. Y.; Mrs. Cady Pierce, Aberdeen, Wash. and Phillip, of Mobile, Ala.

Funeral arrangements, which are under direction of the Hook Funeral Home, have not been completed, pending receipt of word from the sons, James and Harold.

midway between Italy's eastern and western coasts. It is more than 50 miles from the Gulf of Taranto.

The Northwest African Airforce continued to smash at targets in the battle zone, at communications behind the enemy lines, and at harbor installations at Leghorn and Bastia, on the northern end of Corsica. Only two Allied planes were reported missing.

Refugees passing through the Allied lines confirmed the Allied belief that the Germans were looting and destroying the city of Naples, perhaps as a step toward new withdrawals. The refugees said that the Nazis had instituted a reign of terror with thousands of Neapolitans dying within the last few weeks for violations of a stringent German curfew edict. Epidemics of typhoid and typhus in the waterless, hungry city were adding to the horror, they said.

A French general headquarters communique last night disclosed that more than half of Corsica was already in the hands of the French army and Corsican patriots who led the revolt.

The Germans, the bulletin said, had been driven into the coastal areas on the eastern side of the island with the French troops closing in rapidly.

Further trouble for the hunted Germans came from Allied planes which sought to cut off the last avenues of escape or reinforcement by the bombing of Bastia.

RAF and RCAF Wellingtons as well as American Liberators from the Britain-based Eighth U.S.A.A.F., which have now arrived in Africa, joined in the concentrated attack on the Corsican port and on Leghorn, across the Ligurian Sea on the Italian mainland.

Thus the Germans were reported to be caught between the air squeeze on the escape port of Bastia and the rapidly advancing French, who were closing in on Bonifacio and Porto Vecchio on the southeast and southern coasts.

tion among all the armies now in action as well as those slated for assault on what Mr. Roosevelt said would be shown in due time to be the vulnerable parts of Hitler's fortress.

Such coordination has been supplied to date by the combined chiefs of staff, of which Marshall is a principal member. But military observers have long expected that when the time for numerous and large scale actions approached this remote control system would be supplanted by a single, on-the-spot director.

Some ranking officer such as his deputy, Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, might be named acting chief of staff.

Developments Come Fast

The speed with which climatic military operations are developing furnished the theme for much of Prime Minister Churchill's speech to parliament yesterday. Churchill, who spoke with a sure knowledge of what we have in trained men, planes, ships and other munitions, disclosed that the offensive in the Mediterranean is running ahead of schedule.

Authorities here expect that Marshall as Allied commander with immense armies and air forces at his disposal will brook no delay in making sure that the attacks come at such places and times as will keep Germany off-balance and in retreat. It has been said of him that one of his cardinal principles is never to give the enemy a chance to recover his footing once he has lost it.

Balkans in Line

An Allied invasion of the Balkans this year, followed by a full-scale assault on western Europe next spring, now seems probable in the light of Prime Minister Churchill's war review in Commons yesterday and developments on the fighting fronts.

Despite a vast improvement in the Allied shipping position and Gen. George C. Marshall's assertion in Omaha that American military forces are ready to carry the attack to the enemy with "power and force," there is a general feeling in London that a front in western Europe cannot be opened before next year unless the German army suddenly cracks wide open.

On the other hand on official announcement the Aegean island of Coo, Lero and Samos strengthened a growing belief here that a thrust into the Balkans is imminent.

London newspapers conjectured that such an offensive might be launched simultaneously from eastern Italy—where Churchill said he does not expect more than a delaying action by the Germans—and from the newly-acquired Aegean bases.

George Washington wore false teeth made from beeswax models and held in place by spiral springs.

at great cost from island to island.

The statement was issued while MacArthur's jungle troops on New Guinea were exploiting swiftly their victories at Lae and Salamaua and while heavy air blows were being struck ahead of newly-won islands in the Solomon.

MacArthur has been directing the New Guinea operations from the field and, since the new offensive opened June 30, he has had overall command of the operations personally directed by Admiral William F. Halsey in the South Pacific.

"Island hopping, with extravagant losses and slow progress—some press reports indicating victory postponed as long as 1949—is not my idea of how to end the war as soon and cheaply as possible," the statement said.

Rather, he favors "massive strokes against only main strategic objectives, utilizing surprise and air-ground striking power supported and assisted by the fleet."

OFFICER DISMISSED AT SELFRIDGE FIELD

SELFDRIDGE FIELD, Mich., Sept. 22—(P)—Lt. Col. Charles G. White, the second high ranking officer of this army air base to be convicted within a week of violating the articles of war, was sentenced by a general court martial last night to dismissal from the army.

The court martial found the 35-year-old White guilty on five counts, including "drunk to the prejudice of the service" on two occasions.

Col. William T. Colman, former base commandant, was demoted by court martial last Tuesday of the rank of captain after he was convicted on four counts of drunkenness and careless use of firearms in connection with the shooting and wounding last May of Pvt. HARBOR AT HALIFAX MINED BY GERMANS

Vigilance, However, Bailed Loss of Ships

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(P)—German submarines attempted to close Halifax harbor to shipping last June by sowing magnetic mines at the entrance but were foiled by the vigilance of Canadian and British minesweepers, navy minister Angus MacDonald disclosed today.

Although the Nazi under-sea raiders laid some 60 mines in the channel they were discovered so promptly that not a single ship of importance was sunk and no lives were lost, a statement by MacDonald declared.

Coal Scarce Here and Outlook Prospects Not Bright

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

American-British-Russian Cooperation Is Important, Churchill Warns Commons

British Prime Minister Churchill has the knack of hitting the nail on the head, as he again demonstrated yesterday on the manner in which he drove home the points of his notable two-hour war report to the House of Commons.

Outstanding was the Premier's warning of the need of cordial relations between the Anglo-American Allies and their Russian colleague—a subject which long has been driving many timid statesmen to the hurricane cellar. He broached the matter by announcing that not only will there be a conference of representatives of America, Britain and Russia "at an early date" but that this will be followed by a Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill parley, and of this latter project he said:

"No meeting during this war could carry with it so much significance for the future of the world as a meeting between the heads of three governments, for without close, cordial and lasting association between Soviet Russia and their great Allies we might find ourselves at the end of the war only to have entered upon a period of deepening confusion."

Mr. Churchill thus approached a great issue which is causing increasing anxiety—that is, the need of ironing out important differences in viewpoint between the Anglo-American partnership and our Soviet ally. These problems are largely political and unless they are solved they will bode no good to a post-war world which will be entering a new epoch in the progress of mankind.

To my mind the fundamental fact to which all parties must adjust their outlook is that Russia's star seems to be leading her straight to domination of most of Europe and Asia after this war. Look at it whatever way you will—politically, economically or militarily—and the answer is the same. This vast, self-contained, invulnerable empire will be the most powerful unit of the Eastern Hemisphere. That's a decree of fate, and the only way to meet it is to recognize it and strive for a frank understanding.

Among the questions on which the Soviet and the Western Allies appear to be rather far apart is that relating to the method of handling the defeated Axis countries, and especially as regards the treatment of Germany. America and Britain demand unconditional surrender, which would be followed by military occupation.

Moscow, on the other hand, has nodded approval of the activities

QUOTA REDUCED IN SHIPMENTS TO RETAIL DEALERS

Customers Being Told No Deliveries Next Month And Probably Later

Unless autumn comes late and is unusually mild, there will be a lot of chilly homes in Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

You can take that from almost any one of the many coal dealers here for whom it has almost become an enforced habit to say: "Sorry, but we can't send you any coal until the first of November, probably later."

They hasten to remind their customers that the war is to blame and that through no fault of theirs they just can't get coal to sell.

For the most part, the retail coal dealers here accept the wartime restrictions with patriotic understanding. But, at the same time they are apologetic. They can play no favorites. Their old customers have to be disappointed along with the rest now, for, as of German officers and others in Russia who have formed committees and are trying to persuade the German people to overthrow Hitler and form a government which they hope might secure a negotiated peace. The signs are, too, that the Soviet doesn't care for the Allied plans for supervising Italy.

Underlying the issue of the post-war handling of both Germany and Italy there is, of course, the very big question of what form of government these countries ultimately will adopt for themselves. From what fount will they draw their inspiration?

Then there's the question of the Balkans, which Russia regards as within her sphere of influence but which also figure in Britain's interests in the Middle East. And over in Iran (Persia) the old, old rivalry between Britain and Russia for domination of this strategically situated state is working overtime, as was made quite clear to me during my recent visit to that country. More than incidentally, many observers hold that Russia has her eye on the Persian gulf to provide her with one of the warm water ports which she needs so badly.

So it goes, and the further we proceed in surveying the position the more apparent does it become that there must be a mighty lot of give and take among the Allies if grave difficulties are to be avoided. That must be negotiated before the end of the war, for afterward may be too late.

get no more than a twentieth of the coal they used last year. That would mean that the home for which 20 tons was used last season would have to get by with one this year. Rather, their impression of the situation is that they will be able to get coal but that at no time will the bins be full with a season's supply—that home owners will just have to take it a little bit at a time as it comes in to them from the mines.

Not all homes in Fayette County are going to be cold, however. As far back as late last winter, dealers kept telling their customers to not only order but to have their coal in their basements during the summer. Government agencies and spokesmen for miners and mine operators kept harping on the same tune. Some took the warning seriously and are now without worries. Just what percentage put their coal in early has not been figured out by the dealers. They are too busy trying to take care of current needs. But, from the demands and the pleas, the impression is that the percentage was comparatively small.

Responsibility for the scarcity of coal is shared by the miners who went on strike at a critical time; on the operators whose policies did not lend themselves

"Any orders you have on file with us will remain on our books but we must ask you to disregard any definite shipping dates previously indicated. Our quota of permissible dealer shipments must of necessity be spread very thin over this period."

This explanation was not taken to mean that householders would to production to pile up stocks for the winter needs of the civilians and wartime limitations of transportation.

The sales company's bulletin advised the dealers that "the Office of Defense Transportation, in cooperation with other government agencies, is, we understand, preparing for an anticipated increase in transportation that will be required for coal dealers this fall and winter." The retailers here take some hope in that.

While the company says in its bulletin that it does not question the wisdom of the government's wartime regulations it adds that "we do feel, however, that too much publicity has been given through the press and radio to the subject of alleged coal shortage and impending rationing."

Little hope for relief from the stringency is expected from the coal truckers who in former years hauled hundreds of tons of coal over the highways here from the mines in southern Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. Even against such a dark outlook for plentiful supplies of coal, the coal trucks that once roared into Washington C. H. from the south and southeast today are few and far between. Trucks are wearing out and difficult to replace and gasoline and tire rationing have had a shrinking effect on the volume and in addition many of the truck-

"SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL"
Two months ago government reports showed an increase of 500,000 girls in industrial and farm employment, and the vast majority of them were filling the places of boys who had been taken from the farms and inducted into the armed forces. These 1943 volunteer farmettes covered themselves with glory on account of the way they rallied to the call of the soil.

It is heartening to find in government reports that great civilian armies of new workers, in the early summer, were absorbed in the seasonal upswing of farm employment, which accounted for 1,100,000 of the 1,300,000 gain in the number of jobs. This brought employment in agriculture to a total of 11,900,000—the highest figure recorded in employment in recent years. The actual excess of girls and women of 14 years and over employed in the early summer was 1,634,000 and the increase of boys and men was 2,532,000. All these excess workers had their choice of employment between industries engaged in war production or on the farms, and it is a very significant fact that they turned out in such great numbers that the U. S. Employment Service gave them the title of "Soldiers of the Soil." When the farmers cried out loud for help they gathered the crops.

Contrary to the general belief, the early withdrawal of boys and girls from school was a greater factor in the expansion of the labor force than was the increase of women workers. In April, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics, there were about 1,800,000 more teen-age persons in the labor market than was expected, on the basis of school-attendance. And the teen-age groups were on the dot in helping to boost production of aircraft, trucks, Diesel engines, tanks and billions of dollars of materials for the defense program.

DON'T KILL INCENTIVE

Everyone knows that this nation must collect taxes—heavier taxes than any individual ever dreamed of. But an increasing number of public officials are awakening to the fact that the tax load on business can be made so heavy that it will actually kill that source of tax revenue, and in so doing destroy the jobs which provide wages and salaries that in turn, pay the billions in personal income taxes.

Representative A. Willis Robertson, Democrat, Virginia, member of the tax framing House Ways and Means Committee, says: "The best incentive throughout the ages to increased production is the profit incentive."

"The best assurance for employment for returning soldiers will be in private industry and in continuing the private enterprise system. That factor cannot be safely overlooked in the framing of income tax rates for corporations, because the government has no present plans to finance the conversion from war production to peacetime production."

It's all the more remarkable when you consider that until he ran for governor in California a couple of years ago, Warren considered himself non-partisan.
If the Native Sons I have talked to have their story straight, Californians think of Warren much as they do of an earthquake. He rocks them a bit, but when the shake is over, it has done nothing but heighten the delight of the California political climate.

The cat didn't even get a scratch.

new tax program because they want tax levies kept low enough to preserve production incentives.

That the reasoning of Representative Robertson and the military authorities is sound, can be proved by every individual to his own satisfaction by asking himself the simple question: Would I carry on, or could I carry on under a taxation program that leaves me little or nothing but a tax receipt at the end of a year's work? That is a point that every member of Congress will have to consider in connection with individual and corporate taxation in the future because the two are inseparable, for the earnings of each are the basis of production, expansion and steady employment.

Germs Cause Trench Mouth

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
FOR A while it was called "trench mouth," and it may be called acute pyorrhea. Technically it is called Vincent's infection, after the French bacteriologist who discovered the germs which cause it. It is an inflammation of the gums, especially near the tooth margin and beginning with redness and swelling and a little pus formation; it can go on to local gangrene and considerable tissue loss.

It is caused by two germs which are nearly always found together—one is a bacillus and one a long, curly spirillum. One of them or a combination of them is a natural gangrene producer and that is where the trouble begins.

When it is said that the condition is due to infection with these germs, the statement leaves out another factor, perhaps two that are really more important than the presence of the germs themselves. Because from everyone's mouth—no matter how clean and healthy—it is possible to culture some Vincent germs. They are on the surface of the gums or teeth and do no harm until they penetrate the tissues and this penetration is due to a lowering of bodily resistance, perhaps poor diet. The other possible factor is that you are used to your own Vincent germs, but if you happen to get someone else's in your mouth you are liable to trouble. Lowered bodily tone then and cross infection are the important factors in acquiring the disease.

Increase in Disease
It would be natural in view of these factors to suppose that at the present time there would be an increase in the amount of cases with Vincent's infection. Great numbers of the population are crowded together in war plants, they are living in cramped quarters, they are subject to fatigue, they get what kinds of food they can, they eat off plates and with knives, forks and spoons that are often not adequately cleaned after the last customer was served. ASK ADAM

ADAM NORTH, young bachelor who recently converted an old Linville buggy factory into a war plant, becomes a "fill-in" stand-by for the town's party givers, among them being SUSAN POTTER, whose husband, Bill, has lately been breaking evening dates to "negotiate" a real estate deal with ALICIA CARTER, a wily, flirtatious widow. Adam, unknowingly, is loved by his secretary
RUTH MOOREHOUSE, who at present is having difficulty persuading the affections of JACK VINTON, a mechanic in the plant. Adam, not being aware of Bill's feelings, is just becoming intrigued with BRENDA LEIGH, who is now enjoying an extended vacation in Linville, which she left several years ago, to launch a journalistic career in New York City.
YESTERDAY: After receiving a note warning that his war plant is going to be blown up, Adam musically composes the dangers of that with the explosive things that might happen if Bill Potter should object to the love-making he does to his wife, Susan, in an amateur play they are rehearsing.
CHAPTER SIXTEEN
IF SUSAN POTTER had any secret inclination toward weakening in her determination to play the role of Lila in Peter Platt's comedy drama, or to go to work in Adam North's factory cafeteria, that inclination was quickly dispelled two mornings later when she walked into Bill Potter's office and found Alicia Carter sitting there, fairly dripping silver fox furs.
For a moment she nearly forgot her reason for being there herself, the necessity for asking Bill for some extra housekeeping cash, since practically everything she had started out to purchase had gone up in price.
"Oh, pardon me," she said, trying not to sound too sarcastic, "I didn't know you had a caller."
Bill looked up. "Hello, Susan. You know Mrs. Carter, don't you?"
"Yes," said Susan. "We met when she was Mrs. Morton."
Alicia laughed lightly. "Are you sure it wasn't when I was Mrs. Smithers?" She held out her hand. "So glad to see you again, Mrs. Potter."
"Thanks," said Susan.
Bill scowled at her, no doubt thinking she was terribly rude not to say she was glad. "Well, let him think what he wants to think," Susan told herself. "I'm not glad to see Alicia Carter sitting in his office, and if he has a grain of masculine common sense he knows it."
"What can I do for you?" Bill asked, exactly as though he were a clerk in a store and she a customer.
"The factory cafeteria," Susan repeated. "I have to see Adam North anyway about my job, so—"

Great Girdle Puzzle Stumps Experts

By DOROTHY ROE
When a girl's last girdle is busted, and its zippers are tattered and torn, When her oldest corset has crumbled, And her newest garters are worn— What in the world can a poor girl do, If there's no synthetic support in view?
Most hotly debated question confronting American women just now is—when will synthetic rubber be released for use in civilian girdles?
The new acting rubber director, Col. Bradley N. Dewey, cast a ray of sunshine into the gloom, girdle picture the other day when he announced blithely that there will be plenty of rubber for girdles, brassieres and other elastic garments. He added that the necessary amount of synthetic rubber could be assigned to this use right now without hampering the rubber program, if WPB would give the go-signal to elastic textile producers.
Spokesmen for the corset industry, however, present a less sanguine picture.
What—No Two-Way Stretch?
The release of unlimited quantities of synthetic rubber to their industry just now, they say, would not solve the Great Girdle Problem. Reason: Synthetic rubber has not yet been perfected sufficiently to make it acceptable to the critical girdle-wearers of the U.S.A. Says one leader of the industry: "There is still a lot of development to be done before synthetic rubber is suitable for use in making textiles for girdle manufacture. It is to be hoped WPB will not release synthetic rubber to corset manufacturers, except in purely experimental lots, as at present, until it is commercially perfected."
The candid corset boys announce further that the premature use of synthetic stretch in girdle-making would probably do more harm than good, and would prove a great disappointment to the millions of women who have so eagerly awaited its appearance.
The industry is optimistic, however, about the ultimate outcome of present experimental laboratory tests, which now are clearing up some of the unknown factors about synthetic rubber. But they warn against over-optimism as to how soon garments of man-made rubber will be available.
Principal problems to be solved before synthetic rubber will be acceptable for girdle-making are: elasticity and resistance to body heat and perspiration.
Desperate Garters
Even if all the "bugs" in the rubber itself are eliminated in the near future, there remains the problem of weaving, which requires that the rubber be wound with rayon or cotton thread of a special type—and the shortage of this thread is almost as acute as the rubber shortage.
However, the Office of Civilian Requirements now recognizes girdles as one of the vital needs of the home front, and it is believed relief will be in sight before too long.
"The garter situation is desperate,"

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Your tires are in good shape, Judge... I ought to last you at least another 5,000 miles." "I've been very careful of them, Jim, since I learned how much the government needs rubber. Only drive when I have to... keep her under 35 an hour and have the tires switched around every 1,000 miles." "Me, too, Judge. Pretty tough spot we were put in gettin' our supply of rubber cut off just when we needed it most. But, we'll be gettin' plenty of synthetic rubber real soon. Say, is it true, Judge, that the beverage distilling industry has a part in producing it?" "Yes, a very important part, Jim. That industry's facilities for producing grain alcohol make it possible to include 200,000 tons of rubber from grain in the government's 870,000-ton synthetic rubber program. Pretty important contribution to our war effort, isn't it?" "It certainly is, Judge. Wonder how many people really realize it?" Advertisement Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

Look into Your Heart before you give me your Answer!

MY NAME isn't important. I'm just one of the millions of fellows over here fighting for America. I'd like to speak for these fellows—to you folks back home.

You see, I think I know what's in their minds, because we often talk things over among ourselves. Mostly we talk about home—about the places we came from and the things we plan to do when we get back. Right now, especially, we're thinking a lot about home, for we're in the bloodiest battles of history—and we know that some of us will not come back. Some of us will never see again the ones we love.

But—we've got a job to do and we're going to do it. What I want to say to you folks back home is this: we'd like to think that you are with us in this bitter struggle of invasion. It would help a lot to know that you are really behind us, backing us up 100 per cent. It's going to take a heap of ammunition—and ships and planes, tanks and guns, to beat the Axis. That's what the 3rd War Loan is for; it's for INVASION. Most of us fellows in the service are putting every dollar we can into War Bonds. But you folks back home will have to carry the big load. We've got to depend on you. Don't fail us, will you?

Yes, it's to you this boy is looking in this critical hour. Today America calls upon you to do your part in the 3rd WAR LOAN. And your part is at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond during the drive. AT LEAST $100. That's in addition to your regular War Bond subscriptions. Invest more if you possibly can—some of you must invest thousands in order to reach our national quota. Invest out of your income—invest out of your idle or accumulated funds.

Remember, this money must come from individuals like yourself. Each and every one must do his share.

Let's do it the American way—willingly, gladly. Do it with the knowledge that you are putting your money into the safest investment in the world—to be paid back with interest by your government.

Sacrifice today—you will be richer for it tomorrow. Back the invasion now—buy at least one extra $100 War Bond in September.

Your Answer is Either "Yes" or "No" in this Roll Call of the Nation—

YES

I will honestly do my best to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond during the 3rd War Loan Drive. I will lend my Government this money gladly to back up our fighting men.

NO

I am not lending any of my money to my country, I'm spending it. Sure, I know the boys who are fighting for me need support, but let somebody else make the sacrifices.

Your answer will be given in the number of EXTRA War Bonds you invest in during September.

crued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated September 15, 1943; due December 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Price: par and accrued interest.

Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Has First Meeting on Tuesday

The 1943-44 initial meeting of Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority met on Tuesday night at the home of Miss Amelia Pensyl with Miss Lillian Taylor and Mrs. Virginia White-side as assisting hostesses.

The retiring president, Mrs. Faye J. Mayo, was in charge of the business meeting during which reports were given by Miss Amelia Pensyl of the Ways and Means Committee and Miss Opal Davis, chairman of the International Crisis committee. Miss Davis reported a total amount of $2,750 credited to the chapter by the members and their families during this Third War Loan drive.

Mrs. Mayo submitted her president's report which included a resume of the accomplishments of the chapter during her four years of presiding.

Miss Jane Durant, program chairman, presented Miss Marjorie Evans, who gave an outline of the topics selected by the National Program Committee for 1943-44.

Miss Durant gave a most interesting report of the National Conference held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. She quoted from Dr. Stroh, National president, who emphasized the great need of educating now toward a post-war world in which there will be a better understanding and mutual appreciation of the people of other lands.

At a very impressive service the following officers were installed: president, Jane Durant; first vice president, Marjorie Evans; second vice president, Elton B. Elliott; recording secretary, Doris Dick; treasurer, Gladys Melson; parliamentarian, Kathleen Davis.

At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Dr. John Coburn officiated at the ceremony following which a reception was held at the Hotel Pierre.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her great-uncle, Mr. William M. Campbell of Washington C. H., was dressed in a gray sheer wool dressmaker suit with a matching calot and shoulder-length veil. Her corsage was of orchids and bouvardia. Miss Helen Farr, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor and only attendant of the bride.

Dr. Arthur C. Nolke served as best man for Dr. Farr and seating the guests were Dr. Monroe Diamond and Ensign Robert Hovis.

The former Miss Mathews attended the Columbus School for Girls, Graham-Eckes School, Daytona Beach, Fla., Mt. Holyoke College and will continue her studies at Barnard College in New York City.

Dr. Farr, who was graduated from the Hotchkiss School, Yale University and Harvard Medical School, is completing his internship at Bellevue Hospital in New York. He holds a lieutenant's commission in the U. S. Army Medical Corps Reserve and is a member of the Yale Club of New York. Following a short wedding trip to New England, he and Mrs. Farr will make their home at 36 E. Thirty-eighth Street, New York City, N. Y.

ROTARIANS HEAR FIGHTING FLYER ON AIR WARFARE

Capt. J. F. Cunningham Talks At Tuesday Luncheon; Football Coach Speaks

Special interest was aroused at the luncheon meeting of the Washington Rotary Club members at the Country Club Tuesday when as a guest, a real fighting man in this war, Capt. John F. Cunningham of the U. S. Air Forces, was introduced and talked briefly but effectively and answered many questions put to him by attentive club members and guests.

Capt. Cunningham, a native of Wisconsin, may be termed a resident of this city now since he married a Washington C. H. girl, Miss Jean Palmer. He is here on leave of absence after 900 hours of operational and combat service in the air corps in the Pacific and has been in the thick of many major operations against the Japs. He leaves Thursday evening for Salt Lake City, Utah, where he will receive a new assignment for service.

When introduced with a brief resume of his record Capt. Cunningham was given quite an ovation by the assembled Rotarians and guests who stood and applauded. Though visibly surprised and slightly embarrassed at his reception he readily responded to President Halliday's request that he tell his audience what he cared to about his experiences. He talked for a few moments and then stated he would prefer to answer any questions which he was permitted or able to discuss. With this opportunity before them his hearers lost no time in plying him with all manner of queries, most of which he answered simply and clearly. He related many things about the air war in the Pacific and concerning American and Jap planes and fighters which proved very informative to his hearers, many of whom had not any opportunity before to talk with a flyer of his actual experience about Pacific warfare.

Chairman Forrest Hill of the Fayette County War Finance Committee made a strong plea for less complacency and more action in the present Third War Loan drive. He said that Fayette County was far behind its quota in the present campaign and was not doing as well as was done in the last drive. He urged more personal work and declared that Fayette County was not "pulling" its share in backing up fighters like Capt. Cunningham unless we provided the money for war bonds in the amount we are asked to do.

Principal Walter Rettig of the Washington High School, introduced by Paul Fitzwater, chairman of the Rotary September program committee, gave an interesting discussion on high school athletic eligibility rules and paid a well deserved compliment to Coaches Jerry Kissell, George Miraben and the members of the Washington High School football team for their fighting spirit and their efforts, in spite of discouraging wartime conditions which took from the team many of its experienced players.

Capt. Dick Kelly of the football squad was also called upon and was warmly welcomed by the assembled crowd. He expressed thanks for the backing of the team by the city's business people and promised that if they would be patient the team would give a good account

What a pleasure it is to have sparkling linens, laundry-fresh and revitalized for longer wear! And you are completely free of wash-day worries so that added time can be spent on war activities when you send your clothes to Mark's laundry.

Have a "Coke"—That's Wizard (IT'S THE TOPS)

... or how to be liked in London

That's Wizard, says the genial Britisher when he wants to pay you a compliment. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier, and in three words they see things alike. It's as true in a London garden as in a Los Angeles patio. All over the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the happy bond between friendly-minded people.

"Coke"—Coca-Cola

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

FISHER IS INSISTENT ON DEAL FOR LIQUOR

Action To Force Auditor To Pay Bill Started

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22 —(AP)—Liquor Director Don Fisher said today he had formally requested Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert to institute mandamus proceedings in the supreme court to compel State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson to approve a $1,000,000 voucher toward the purchase of 100,000 cases of whiskey.

"As liquor director, it is my responsibility to maintain an adequate supply of liquor so far as possible," Fisher said. "The agreement by which we can obtain this volume of whiskey was studied and found entirely valid by the attorney general. I propose, therefore, to proceed with the transaction." Ferguson refused to approve the voucher yesterday on grounds the liquor still was to be bottled and that collateral advanced by Foster & Company.

New York liquor dealer with whom the deal was made, was not sufficient.

TEXAS GAS TO BURN IN OHIO
WITHIN A YEAR

New Pipeline 1228 Miles Long To Start at Corpus Christi

With announcement that the Federal Power Commission will authorize the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Co. to build a gas line from Corpus Christi, Texas, to Corwell Station, West Virginia, a distance of 1,228 miles, it has become evident that this part of Ohio will obtain part of its supply from Texas when necessary to augment the West Virginia and Ohio supply.

The new gas main, one of the largest ever constructed, will tie in with the distributing pipes leading from West Virginia to Ohio, and will make a huge supply of gas available for many years, so that the big connecting link between the great Texas gas wells means more to Ohio than appears on the surface from the bare announcement that the line has been authorized. Washington C. H. consumers will eventually be using the Texas gas and possibly Kansas gas.

A shortage of gas during the coming winter or possibly the following winter, in this part of the country has been indicated, due to the tremendous increase in consumption.

The new line is expected to carry 207,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily for distribution in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York when the line is completed.

The gas mains furnishing this city with gas are connected with a wide producing field in Ohio and West Virginia and the supply will be greatly increased by the new line, work on which will start within a short time and be rushed to completion during the coming year.

It is expected that many employees of construction companies working on the 20 inch gas-line line across the country at the present time, will be employed on the new line.

Within a short time it is believed that permission will be granted for building a big line eastward from the huge gas field opened in southwestern Kansas, which is regarded as one of the greatest gas producing areas in the world.

MURPHY CO. HERE
IN WAR BOND RACE

Clerks Have Goals of $200
Each To Sell

With a goal of $200 each to sell in War Bonds and stamps during the Third War Loan drive, the 20 full time workers in the G. C. Murphy Company store here are shooting at a $4000 Bond sales mark. Mrs. Virgil Duff and Miss Phyllis Pittinger have each made their quota so far. There are 17 part-time workers as well.

The goals were set to individual workers as a part of an inter-company contest during the Third War Loan drive. More than 200 stores are participating in the contest, in which awards are to be made purely on merit. The contest extends over Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, New York and Connecticut.

Murphy's store here is now operating under an all-woman personnel, except for William Humphreys, manager of the store. Two apprentice assistants are now in training, Mrs. Carl Murphy and Mrs. Walter Reser.

Amazing results
in building
STURDY BODIES!

YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood. A growing person who is operating on a 60 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies. SSS Tonic is especially designed to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient, and to promote those STOMACH JUICES which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair. These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite... firm flesh... body energy... mental alertness!

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win
Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 16 and 20 oz. sizes. © S.S.S. Co.

ZENN SMITH BADLY
INJURED IN FALL

Scaffold Collapses and He Drops 30 Feet

When a scaffolding collapsed while he was repairing a chimney on Grange Hall in New Martinsburg, Tuesday, Zenn Smith, 55, of Greenfield sustained severe injuries in a 30 foot fall to the ground.

He landed on his feet in an upright position, and while no bones were broken, he sustained severe bruises, sprains and suffered from shock.

The impact, when he struck the ground, caused injuries about the joints of his legs. After being given medical attention and X-ray pictures were taken, Smith was taken to the home of Mrs. James McLaughlin in Greenfield.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps Now

COUNTY LAGS IN WAR BOND DRIVE
BY $702,765.25

$90,000 Must Be Sold Each
Of Eight Remaining Days To Meet County's Quota

"The people in Fayette County are evidently feeling a complacency about this war. They are beginning to think that it is already won and that the country doesn't need their dollars to win it. As a matter of fact, it is in a crucial stage now when more equipment—more bonds—is needed than ever before."

Those are statements made by F. E. Hill, chairman of the War Finance committee here, when he was confronted by the facts that Fayette Countians must buy $702,765.25 in bonds in the next eight days to meet their $1,018,000 quota. So far, only 800 people of more than 21,000 in the county have purchased bonds in the amount, of $315,234.75. There is plenty of money in Fayette County—increased bank deposits show that.
